OUR VISION The Ontario College of Social Workers and Social Service Workers strives for organizational excellence in its mandate in order to: serve the public interest; regulate its members; and be accountable and accessible to the community.

OUR MISSION The Ontario College of Social Workers and Social Service Workers protects the interest of the public by regulating the practice of social workers and social service workers and promoting ethical and professional practice.

JOINT MESSAGE FROM THE COUNCIL CHAIR AND THE REGISTRAR & CEO

John Fleming
Council Chair

Lise Betteridge MSW, RSW
Registrar & CEO

For the Ontario College of Social Workers and Social Service Workers, connecting regulatory excellence with public protection is always top of mind. The past year has brought opportunities to make this connection in a new way, as we engaged in a challenging and rewarding governance review process.

As we strive for continuous improvement in all aspects of our work, we are very proud to have embarked upon the significant journey of governance review and transformation. College Council and senior staff took part in governance training, and our current practices were closely examined. Governance consultants Harry Cayton and Deanna Williams presented their Governance Report and its 21 recommendations to College Council, an action plan was developed, and a number of important decisions were made – some of which have already been implemented.

“We made significant inroads in our efforts to advance diversity, equity and inclusion and truth and reconciliation”

Two such changes relate to language – switching from “member” to “registrant,” to make clear the College’s role as a regulator rather than an association, and changing from “Council President” to “Council Chair,” to better define the responsibilities of the role. Implementation of the governance recommendations is an important achievement which lays the groundwork for future regulatory innovation and modernization at the College.

Over the past year, the College has also made great strides in achieving key priorities in its 2020-23 Strategic Plan. We made significant inroads in our efforts to advance diversity, equity and inclusion, and truth and reconciliation, which included meaningful progress on the Equity and Inclusion Data Initiative. We engaged with all College stakeholders as part of the ongoing review of the College's Standards of Practice, ensuring that the minimum standards which guide registrants' practice reflect societal changes and current practice in both professions. And we continued to work towards implementation of entry-to-practice exams for all College applicants – a requirement which we anticipate will be fully implemented in 2027. Moving forward, we will be embarking on a multi-faceted campaign to address the disturbing increase in the number of complaints received by the College related to sexual misconduct.

We would like to take a moment to thank the College Council for its leadership and dedication. In 2022, we welcomed newly elected Council members Mandi Olson, RSSW, Marinna Read, RSW, Sandie Sidsworth, RSSW, and Candice Snake, RSW. We said a fond goodbye to elected members Angèle Desormeau, RSSW, Shelley Hale, RSSW, Frances Keogh, RSW, and Lisa Seburn, RSW; and public member Déirdre Smith.

“Everything the College does comes down to ensuring that public protection is at the forefront of all decision-making”

Everything the College does comes down to ensuring that public protection is at the forefront of all decision-making. As we continue to connect our governance transformation to our public protection mandate, we will embrace the many challenges ahead, learning and discovering as we move forward in our journey.

MAKING THE CONNECTION

Everything the Ontario College of Social Workers and Social Service Workers does is connected to its public protection mandate. Last year was no different as we embarked on new initiatives, engaged the public, maintained ethical and professional standards, and improved our regulatory processes – all driven by our ongoing mandate to protect Ontarians from harm.

Here are some of the ways we served Ontarians in 2022:

COMPLAINTS AND DISCIPLINE

The College protects the public from unqualified, incompetent and unfit practitioners through its rigorous complaints and discipline processes.

In 2022, the College’s Complaints Committee considered 92 new complaint investigations and issued 78 complaints decisions and reasons. We considered 25 mandatory reports and issued five decisions and reasons. The College’s Discipline Committee received 17 new referrals, held nine hearings and issued five decisions.

We continued to see an increase in the percentage of complaints related to sexual misconduct last year – from 8% in 2021 to 16% in 2022. This increase is extremely concerning, and we are committed to addressing the issue head on through a multi-faceted campaign in the year ahead.

Read more about the composition and work of the College’s Complaints and Discipline Committees on the College website.

TITLE PROTECTION

In Ontario, only College registrants can use the protected titles “social worker/ registered social worker” or “social service worker/ registered social service worker.” Individuals who use these protected titles illegally put the public at risk. The public has a right to assume that when they or their loved one receives services from someone indicating they are a social worker or a social service worker, that person is registered with – and overseen by – the College.

In 2022, the College processed 323 title protection matters regarding individuals misusing the protected titles. We filed cease-and-desist applications through the courts regarding two unregulated practitioners, and one unregulated practitioner was criminally charged.

IMPROVING OUR PROCESSES

In 2022, the College's equivalency stream was made available online to applicants. As a result of this work, all applicants to the College can now apply entirely online, further streamlining the application process. This initiative is part of the College's broader efforts to leverage technology to improve our services and make our platforms more accessible to the stakeholders we serve.

ENGAGING OUR STAKEHOLDERS

Public awareness is a crucial component of public protection. For this reason, the College works hard to ensure that its messaging is accessible, inclusive and reaches all corners of the province.

We informed Ontarians of our important public protection tools through our ongoing public awareness campaign, which included advertisements on digital media, in medical offices across Ontario, and on CP24. In 2022, the successful campaign – called "What's in a name? Protection for you" – led to an 82% increase in visits to the College's Online Register of social workers and social service workers since 2021. It's clear that Ontarians are getting the message that the College is here for their protection.

We continued to engage directly with our stakeholders through various formats to highlight relevant issues. We published two issues of our Perspective newsletter for registrants and four issues of Employer Communiqué for employers of social workers and social service workers. We hosted educational sessions for registrants at the increase in visits to the College's Online

Register

2022 Annual Meeting and Education Day \(AMED\) and Educational Forum and engaged employers at our Employer Roundtable. We continued to work collaboratively with our government and regulatory-sector partners.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION

The College recognizes that advancing diversity, equity and inclusion and addressing discrimination are important parts of its public protection mandate. To achieve these goals, we must first improve our understanding of the current landscape, including barriers and diversity of representation. We want to ensure we are making decisions that are guided by lived experiences and authentic representation.

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) Committee created in 2022

In September 2022, we began to develop our Equity and Inclusion Data Initiative to help identify and monitor systemic racism and discrimination within the professions of social work and social service work. Through the collection of this data, we aim to understand, among other objectives, the degree to which the diversity of the Ontario public is reflected within the College's registrant base. Our work on this initiative has included many conversations and consultations, during which we sought guidance and direction from a wide range of communities and organizations. We anticipate that the Equity and Inclusion Data Initiative will launch in the College's next renewal season, which begins in late November 2023.

The Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) Committee was created in 2022, following the dissolution of the DEI Task Group – a reflection of the important work that remains ahead. While a task group can be disbanded when it achieves its goal, a committee has an ongoing role. Read the DEI Committee's inaugural report.

TRUTH AND RECONCILIATION

The College is committed to meeting the calls to action set out by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) of Canada, which includes ensuring that registrants are well-informed about the issues faced by Indigenous peoples.

Last year, we offered two educational sessions to registrants as part of our commitment to truth and reconciliation: one on First Nations' mental health rights by Dr. Carol Hopkins at AMED 2022, and the other on decolonizing child welfare by Sherrie Moore and Elizabeth Sault at our Educational Forum.

In 2022, we further expanded our public awareness campaign to reach First Nations, Inuit and Métis communities in Ontario. We look forward to further developing our relationships with Indigenous communities.

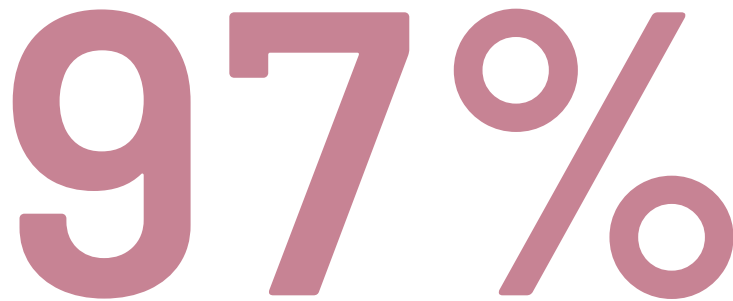

Last year, the College offered new educational sessions as part of our commitment to truth and reconciliation

UPHOLDING ETHICAL AND PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE

The College ensures that Ontario’s social workers and social service workers are qualified and have the practice supports they need to serve their clients and communities.

In 2022, we received thousands of requests for practice consultations from registrants, employers and the public, the most common themes related to consent/confidentiality/ duty to warn, private practice, and technology. We provided 29 presentations to social work and social service work programs and workplaces throughout Ontario. We also created and updated practice resources to help registrants navigate common issues, from conflicts of interest to working with clients to the administration of Naloxone.

We continued our comprehensive review of the College’s Standards of Practice to ensure that they reflect societal changes and current practice in the professions. The review is informed by consultations with our stakeholders, who bring different lenses, perspectives and lived experiences. We anticipate that the revised Standards of Practice will be released later in 2023.

CONTINUING COMPETENCE

As part of its public protection mandate, the College ensures that registrants are qualified and current in their practice, and that they continue to learn on an ongoing basis.

The primary purpose of the College’s Continuing Competence Program \(CCP\) is to promote quality assurance with respect to the practice of the professions of social work and social service work, and to encourage registrants to enhance their practice in an ongoing way. The CCP, which is mandatory for all College registrants except those holding a retired class of certificate of registration, had a 97% completion rate in 2022.

2022-2023 COLLEGE COUNCIL

The College Council is the 21-member governing body and board of directors that sets the strategic and policy direction for the College. Council members regulate the professions of social work and social service work through our ongoing mandate to protect the public interest.
